Siamese Twins Arrive For Critical Operation

The Townsend twins of Tofield were brought to Edmonton this morning to be separated by surgery.

The healthy twins, joined at the abdomen, will be operated upon a few days before they are six months old, May 17.

The twins were brought to Edmonton by the parents in a friend's car. They were accompanied by Padre Ted Orme, the family's spiritual adviser, and Mrs. Dave Scott, the Townsend's grandmother.

PRAY EN ROUTE
En route here the parents prayed that their two beautiful little girls may be enabled by the operation to live normal lives.

The father told the Bulletin that the trip was "uneventful."

"The babies slept all the way," he said.

The emotional strain on the young couple has been terrific since the arrival of their first-born.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Townsend know that the operation will be extremely risky.

They have been gravely warned of the difficulties involved.

REFUGE IN PRAYER
They have beseeched to pray doctors for their opinion of "the chances." Instead they have sought hope in prayer.

The twins were christened in the Anglican church a few hours after they were born, Nov. 17.

Four Cars Involved In Nisku Accident

A birthday party ended tragically at 1:00 a.m. today when four persons were killed in a four-car crash-up at Nisku.

Dead are:
Lorne "Duke" Campbell, 54, Edmonton fire captain, 10804-117 street.
Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Akins, 10933-130 street.
Lloyd Bonnyman, 30, Yellowknife.

Mr. Akins was 28 years of age, Mrs. Akins, 24. The death car crashed into the rear of a lumber truck which was being flagged down by an RCMP highway patrol, the police headquarters here said.

Minutes before the fatal accident, a second car had smashed into another car stopped by the patrol for licence check. The two cars were thrown from the road.

Police stated both cars were clear of the road when the second crash occurred. Lumber truck "scotch" warning signs were on the highway; they reported and the patrolmen were using flashlights.

Although no date has been set, an inquest will be held, it was reported today.

The death car contained six persons who were on an evening drive after attending a party celebrating the 30th birthday of Lloyd Bonnyman. Liquor was reported not involved in the crash.

Driver of the car was Clifford J. Foster, address not available.

Mrs. Campbell is suffering facial lacerations and possible chest injuries. Her condition is reported as fair.

Mrs. Bonnyman has shock and lacerations around her eyes. Her condition is reported as good.

The four-car take is said to have occurred when the highway patrol stopped a car travelling north on the Calgary highway at Nisku.

Minutes later, the patrol is reported to have flagged down a lumber truck also heading north, driven by Don Will of Calgary.

The truck crew up slowly but was struck from the rear by the car driven by Akins.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 20.

—AP—Two United Nations veterans, Assembly President Carlos P. Romulo and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, yesterday rejected former President Herbert Hoover's suggestion of organizing the UN with Russians.

Romulo called the present organization the "worst possible bridge" that we have today between the two hostile camps on either side of the globe.

Mrs. Roosevelt told a reporter the proposal by former President Hoover, made Thursday night in a speech at a New York dinner of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, is "the surest way to war." In a formal statement, later, she left out those words, but said Hoover's statement, "Seemed an action somewhat marching toward war rather than keeping the world together."

Irate Edmontonians Press For Cleanup

Dirty Streets In Edmonton Are Basis For Demands

Angry citizens are demanding an immediate cleanup of Edmonton streets.

Many have phoned the Bulletin praising Friday's story about the city's dirty streets, and two housewives today said their spring cleaning is being held up, storm winds are being left to keep out, and their furniture is being ruined by dust that is far worse than experienced before.

City officials said today that additional men and equipment are being thrown into the spring cleanup, but no actual number was available today.

One spokesman said it is expected that by Monday an additional "10 or 20 trucks and a lot more men" will be engaged in the dirt battle.

MOST EVER
Mrs. G. Nicholson, of 1041-43 street and Mrs. F. Labine of 1040-43 street, today told the Bulletin they have never seen as much dust from trucks using unpaved and gravel roads as today.

"Our street is not sprinkled or oiled, and the dust is so bad we can't even sit on the porch," they said.

"It is simply terrible," said Mrs. Nicholson. "I don't understand it. The city is getting better. They used to put water on the street, but there has been no spring and the poor children go around with their hands and faces black from the dust."

"I'm so disgusted because we haven't even gotten at our spring cleaning. I've lived here 11 years and never seen as much heavy traffic or so much dust—why can't they go on Jasper where it's piled, I don't know."

MAY SELL HOME
"I'm thinking of selling the house because of the dust and then we could go to the country—at least on a paved street—where we could breathe," said Mrs. Nicholson.

Mrs. Labine said it is impossible to hang clothes on the line and the dust is ruining her rug and furniture.

"Clothes get saturated with dust."

Driver Faces Death Charge

A coroner's jury yesterday called an impaired windshield and lack of horn on a car involved in a fatal accident, "contributory" factors in the traffic accident death of Mrs. Joseph Shriew, 72, 12147-92 street, April 7.

She was struck by car allegedly driven by Clarence White, Stony Plain, at 91 street and 104 avenue, April 7.

White faces a manslaughter charge arising from the elderly woman's death.

Provincial Chief coroner Mr. M. Cantor criticized the conduct of a passenger in White's car who testified he did not get out of the car at the time of the fatal accident and had no clear idea of what happened.

The coroner called his conduct "inevitable."

Evidence was heard from police, engineers and Dr. John Sturges of Royal Alexandra who described cause of death as originating from rib injuries.

The four, all ex-servicemen, are William Van Vleet, who will go to Frankfurt-am-Main, Western Germany; C. J. Simola, for The Hague, Netherlands; W. P. Hillhouse, London, England; D. B. Laughton, the Caribbean area.

Mr. Laughton was a resident of Edmonton in the 1930's and worked for a time in the advertising department of The Edmonton Bulletin.

WAS TOUR

Agriculture department of agriculture, department of industries and labour, Alberta Fair Breeders' Association, Northern Alberta Dairy Pool, Gainers Ltd. and Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

The four will leave Edmonton Tuesday for the Pacific coast. It is likely they will take their overseas posts in August.

D. R. McNaughton will be guest speaker at Active Club meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Meeting will be held at Canadian Athletic Club hall, 109 street and Kingsway.

Ex-Briton To Speak Wednesday
George G. Vincent, former head of the United Kingdom Information Office in Canada, will address Edmonton Canadian Club at lunch, 12:15 p.m., Wednesday in the MacDonald hotel.

With a background of service in the information sections of the British government dating from 1942, he is well qualified to speak on his topic, "Britain in the Balance."

Town Planning Picture

There have been a few minor clashes between Edmonton home builders and town planning officials over the development of outlying areas in the city.

That is why citizens should examine very closely the overall town planning picture outlined by Planner Noel Dant in a particularly lucid and convincing manner to the Property Owners' Association a few nights ago.

The city that Mr. Dant envisions is so superior to any view of Edmonton's future hitherto seen in this community that there can be no reasonable comparison.

It is a picture of the future, and it is to the Edmonton Bulletin which, in behalf of progressive citizens, vigorously and insistently demanded for more than two years the town planning survey and the appointment of a professional planner.

That campaign and the results of it are bearing fruit beyond even our expectations.

Mr. Dant told the Property Owners' Association that the modern city has a downtown focal point which is usually a commercial centre.

The Detwiler project, he said, would accomplish that purpose admirably.

Then, regarding the downtown shopping area, he proposed a series of neighborhood and community units.

Each neighborhood unit would be a self-sufficient area containing a school, one or two churches, a shopping centre and a community league.

Groups of five or six neighborhood units would make up a community unit which would contain a central high school.

The effect of this planning is to minimize transportation problems, to expose children to the least possible risk in going to and from school and, preventing discrepancies in architecture, to stabilize property values.

This general overall plan is what other cities are spending billions of dollars to achieve.

It is essentially a plan of decentralization and is the essence of the program that has been laid down by the federal district commission for the new Ottawa.

It is a plan which with some very progressive citizen should make himself or herself thoroughly familiar.

More Churches, Better Citizenship

The Edmonton presbytery of the United Church of Canada has done a wise thing to arrange a meeting with Town Planner Noel Dant to discuss the building of new churches in this community.

It is a step that every community in the city should take.

For it is essential that the churches and the town planning organization should understand each other.

The churches should not be allowed to violate the town planning program.

But neither should the town planning authority be permitted to say just where churches shall or shall not be.

It should be understood that where the location of new church buildings is concerned, the churches and the town planning authority operate upon two entirely different sets of data.

The town planners know all about density of population and transportation facilities and types of architecture and the general purpose of specific areas.

But they cannot be expected to know all spiritual needs which the churches, governs the location of new buildings.

It is vital, therefore, that the two interrelated and the two viewpoints should be closely allied.

Town planning can help the churches. The churches can help the town planning.

The two should work together for the creation of new places of worship which are the finest social asset any city can have.

Nearing the End of His Ministry

In the 16th chapter of St. John's Gospel it is made clear that at no point in Christ's earthly ministry were His disciples fully aware of His purpose and His destiny.

In this chapter, Christ says to them: "A little while and ye shall not see Me; and again a little while and ye shall see Me, because I go to the Father."

He observed, by their puzzled faces, that they did not know what He meant. And so He proceeded to comfort them by His explanation of His purpose and His destiny.

He observed, by their puzzled faces, that they did not know what He meant. And so He proceeded to comfort them by His explanation of His purpose and His destiny.

He observed, by their puzzled faces, that they did not know what He meant. And so He proceeded to comfort them by His explanation of His purpose and His destiny.

No wonder, then, since even those who lived in intimacy with Him could not understand Him, that the personality and divinity of Jesus puzzle men who came two thousand years later.

Philosophy gives us answer to the mystery of the Christ of the world. Not all the thinking in twenty centuries has rendered His life and Redemption any less than miraculous.

But there came a time when the disciples did understand.

On the night of Pentecost when the Holy Ghost, the Third Person of the Trinity, conferred His gift of understanding upon the group of men gathered in that upper room in Jerusalem, they began to see what Christ had accomplished and why He had lived.

And all those steps are still necessary to the creation of a Christian.

First comes knowledge. Then comes faith. And finally, through knowledge and faith, comes the gift of the Holy Spirit, which is understanding.

ANSWERS:

Caroline Cox, West, 11, tells me that she has a very good opinion of people.

Government

Editor, Bulletin.—Governments have made a mess of it. As I see it, the drive for more and larger pensions is due to a widespread feeling of helplessness and inability to continue our welfare state.

We are appalled by the thought of being forced to look around for a solution to our problems in a world which no longer wants our services and which has already begun to turn its back on us.

Mixed Marriage Issue Aids Reds

On August 26, 1940, a plane landed at Franciscan, Buchanan, and on stepped a 24-year-old London bride, Miss Ruth Williams, who was married to a South African, Mr. Seretse Khama, chief of the Bechuanaland Protectorate.

The previous September a few people were shocked at a white girl marrying this colored chieftain, but that was nothing to the shock experienced by his people over his marrying a white girl.

The bride, Miss Ruth Williams, the niece of Seretse, seized the opportunity to secure authority for herself, but in June the tribal council decided to be broad minded and accepted Seretse and his English bride.

South African Moves Forward

The Labor government then let it be known unofficially that it had secured its desired aim. South Africa would demand that the three protectates of Bechuanaland, Swaziland and Basutoland be placed under British rule.

It argued that because of this, Seretse was endangering the freedom of South Africa and that it was therefore necessary to offend Prime Minister Malen.

Two weeks later Sir Evelyn Baring, the British High Commissioner, journeyed to Bechuanaland to officially advise the native tribes of the reasons for the British decision.

Atlantic Charter Called to Mind

I have a recollection about an agreement in which Britain was a small, master group, and the United Nations was a free people in which to select their own government. That was the Atlantic Charter.

There was painted the picture of a world in which the people were free to live and work and worship as they saw fit. It was a picture of a world in which the people were free to live and work and worship as they saw fit.

Tory Saving Plan Virtually Defeated

Liberals Fail To Go Along With Drew's Economy Ideas

By James R. Nelson

Special to The Bulletin

OTTAWA, April 20.—(BUP)—Only the formality of a vote was left today to complete burial of a Progressive Conservative plan for an impartial investigation of government spending.

The proposal drew a flat rejection from the government when it was brought up in commonsense yesterday by opposition leader George Drew, and a day-long debate did nothing to change the Liberal majority's mind.

The Conservatives, determined to give their plan for a Canadian version of the U.S. Hoover commission the fullest possible airing, prevailed a vote last night, enabling themselves to carry on the debate next week.

When the issue reached a vote, the CCF party was joined with the large Liberal majority and Social Credit will support the Conservatives.

FOUR RESULTS

Drew said a royal commission investigation of government could accomplish four "beneficial" results. He named them as:

1. Reduce public expenditures without impairing efficiency.
2. Eliminate duplication between government departments and between

Mutual Defence Agreed By U.S., Canada C of C

ASHVILLE, N.C., April 20.—(AP)—A joint committee of the chamber of commerce of the United States and Canada agreed yesterday that the two neighboring countries need to act as one in the military defense of North America.

The group of 18 men and six advisory members is in the second day of a three-day meeting here to discuss improvement of trade and defense measures.

Alaska as a potential centre of progress was discussed by a parallel committee, the northwest development committee of the two chambers.

Two groups will join forces tomorrow for reading of reports and resolutions that they will condense into recommendations to the respective chamber boards.

Just Reward

ASHFORD, Kent, England.—(CP)—Broad delivery man Tom Kennell saw a live goose fall off a passing truck. When he went to pick it up the bird laid an egg.

A GOOD TRY DIDN'T WORK THIS TIME

NEW WESTMINSTER, April 20.—(CP)—It was, Magistrate H. L. Edmonds said in police court yesterday, "really too nice a day to be inside."

"Well, I'm more for dismissal right now," defence counsel Tom Fisher said promptly.

"No doubt," retorted the magistrate as he fined George Keshik of Vancouver $75 on a charge of dangerous driving and failure to produce proof of financial responsibility.

Wholesalers Up Beef Price

There is more bad news today from the meat front for Mrs. Edmonds.

Already at an all-time high, beef prices advanced another two cents a pound, wholesale earlier this week. Yesterday retail beef prices a pound wholesale and pork prices are expected to go up Monday.

Butchers reported sharply decreased sales of higher priced cuts have forced up prices on all cheap cuts.

EVEN STEWS UP

Hamburger and stew beef have risen 10 cents a pound to 50 and 75 cents respectively. Rump roast is up 15 cents to 45 cents.

Pork prices have also risen sharply this week. Loin, for example, is up to 35 cents from 48. Further price rises can be expected next week, butchers say.

Veal prices are expected to go up as much as five cents a pound next week.

Wholesale price of beef is up 55 per cent since January 1 because of heavy American buying and a shortage of cattle because of cold winter.

CBC Meeting

OTTAWA, April 20.—(CP)—Next meeting of the CBC Board of Governors will be held in Ottawa May 22 and 23, it was announced Friday. The last meeting of the board was held here in March.

Record Crowd On Hand For Carmen's Annual

A record crowd of 350 last night attended the annual banquet and dance held in the Macdonald hotel by West Edmonton Lodge Number 488 of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America.

Strides made by labor in recent years were emphasized in an address by H. Ellis, coach foreman at Edmonton.

He recalled the days when the "Macdonald hotel was a place sitting up on the hill that we never even looked at."

The work of railway carmen has become dignified as a skilled craft, with a five-year apprenticeship, he pointed out.

A. M. MacLennan, car foreman at Calder, also brought the greetings of the company to the gathering.

Introduced at the banquet were retiring brothers John Jones, Jimmy Cameron, Pete Isaacs and Len Stoenel.

Chairman of the meeting was Lloyd Barlow, lodge treasurer, who was assisted by Ed McClintock.

Brief addresses were made by Charles Brown, president-elect, and Dunc Campbell, retiring after three years.

The surface area of the earth is estimated to be 196,830,000 square miles, of which 141,000,000 square miles are water.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 20.—(AP)—The Yale Record, undergraduate humor magazine, hit the newsstands today with a click and a clank.

The editors figure its subscribers will find the gadget handy because today is Derby Day. That's when Yale roses, Columbian and Pennsylvania on the Houstonian at Derby.

Designs For Nickel

OTTAWA, April 20.—(CP)—Any one who thinks one nickel is as good as another had better not try to say so to the nine judges who have the job of selecting a new design for the Canadian five-cent piece.

A contest for the new design, with a $1,000 top prize, ends April 30, and so far the Royal Canadian mint has received more than 8,000 entries.

40 Municipalities Seek Self-Liquidating Loans

Nearly 40 applications from municipalities for two per cent interest loans from the provincial government are now under consideration by government authorities.

According to the Self-Liquidating Projects Act, passed at the recent legislative session, a total of $2,000,000 can be made available to municipalities.

The funds must be used for such projects as water works systems, gas or electrical systems which will eventually pay for themselves. Money will be borrowed at two per cent interest provided the projects are approved by government authorities.

Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of labour and Pask status.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Man Who Found Himself

The seventy-third Psalm tells us the story of a man for whom the world had gone sour. He was a good man according to his light, but as he looked out on the world he saw other men, not quite so honest as he who made more money than he did.

Other men whom he mocked God and asked the question "How doth God know and is there knowledge in the most high?" They flouted their unbelief and no judgment fell upon them. Trouble seemed to pass them by, and they prospered in all their undertakings.

One psalmist was a peculiar fellow, he did not go around telling others of what he felt within himself. His world had gone sour, well, he said it was up to me to find out why.

One day he happened to be passing a church and dropped in while the service was going on. Something happened to him there. Whatever it was, he found his answer, for he says "When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me; until I went into the sanctuary of God," then understood "I end."

Some vision of God and of the purpose of God for the world flashed upon him as he sat there. He saw God face to face and in that vision found the assurance for which he had been looking, and looking elsewhere in vain. He discovered that what he had thought to be success, all the money, prosperity and affluence of those whom he had envied were after all only the small change of life. That the intangibles and imperishables of eternity were of infinitely more value than all these.

But more happened to him. He saw himself as he really was, a creature of sin, a sinner and an evildoer. And the revelation stunned him, you see, he had no idea just how far his envy could lead him and he cries out "I was a beast before Thee. His pride is broken as he realizes that what was wrong was not the world but himself.

But in that revelation he saw that before the world would look different to him, he himself would have to be reformed. He was honest, and admitted his fault and found the peace he sought.

Many men, we suspect, stay away from church because they are afraid of meeting their face to face. But here is the place where peace may be found, if one is honest with one's self. The world is not such a bad place after all, it is our attitude towards it that makes it good or bad, whether we are looking at times or eternity. The psalmist found the answer to his problems in Christ. Why don't you make the experiment? It may be better than you imagine and you may find that for which you are seeking so earnestly.

COME TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY

Buses Asked For Soures

From Toronto Telegram
The day of the four saints and prelate may be gone but its high time the liquor industry started a free bus service to see its disreputable customers safely home.

Rev. George A. Little, of Toronto of the United Church of Canada came up with this solution for a safe send-off for so-called "drunkies" during a meeting of the East York Neighbourhood Workers' Association.

Dr. Little suggested maintenance by the hotel and wholesale liquor trades on the Ontario Government of buses, chauffeurs in drinking places and uniformed drivers and assistants, to be kept at the ready for the untidy.

Pointing to the Board of Education's provision of many students unable to walk he said "I

Regina Male Choir To Sing At Beulah Church

The male choir of the Western Canadian Bible Institute, Regina, Sask., will appear in Beulah Tabernacle on Saturday evening (tonight) at 8:15 and on Sunday at 11:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The sixteen-voice choir includes students from five provinces. On the heady day they were selected approximately two thousand miles through Saskatchewan, Alberta and the state of Montana, giving twenty individual concerts.

The musical program consists of varied arrangements of anthems, hymns, gospel songs and Negro spirituals. Instrumentals from the group will play violin solos and piano duos.

SPECIAL COMBINATIONS
Special vocal combinations will add variety to these concerts. In their representation of the last part of the musical, the choir will present word pictures of the life of their choir.

Miss Nancy French, student from Edmonton, is accompanist for the choir. Conductor is Rev. Henry Schroeder, director of the music department of the Institute. Mr. Schroeder came to Regina from the Bible Institute two years ago after graduating from a school of sacred music in Winnipeg.

The choir male choir will also conduct one service in Leduc on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Gaiety Theatre.

Army Keeps Grip Of War On Chobham

CHOBHAM, Eng.—(CP)—Chobham, home of 2nd Canadian Corps during the war, is still having trouble shaking itself loose of the army after five years of peace.

Indeed, it seems fated to get more of it, and the inhabitants are up to arms.

The War Office wants to increase its present 350-acre tank-testing establishment to 650 acres, taking a further 300 acres of Chobham Common.

Between Welling and Runcingdale, Chobham is a piece of Surrey countryside in which crisscrossing distance of London and for years the heather slopes have been among the favorite haunts of day holiday.

The tank-testing grounds now in use have been transformed from peatland into a disturbed in summer and a quagmire in winter with the noise of the tank engines as an added nuisance.

Giant Wedge Of Limestone Remembered

FRANK, Alta. April 29.—(CP)—47 years ago today a giant wedge of limestone—300 feet high, 4,000 feet wide and 300 feet thick—crashed down from Turtle Mountain and buried 300 acres of Chobham.

An inscription nearby states: "Seventy million tons of rocks swept over two miles of valley, taking 60 lives and burying numerous homes, the mine and railway, along with 3,000 acres of fertile land, to a depth of 100 feet in 100 seconds."

The disaster struck at 4:10 a.m. during the chilly morning of April 29, 1913. This mountain village near the British Columbia border has never fully recovered from the calamity. At the time of the slide Frank's population was 800; now it is 300. Other Crown's Nest Pass mines have since forged ahead.

From time to time there have been alarms that there is danger of a repetition of the tragedy. Examiners reported fissures hundreds of feet long, several feet wide and of unknown depth have appeared on the face of Grey Turtle mountain.

RECEIVING ROTARY charter is J. A. (Johnny) Young, of South Edmonton, left, from E. W. (Ed) Byers, Rotary district governor of Kenora, Ont. New Chapter of Rotary in South Edmonton got away to flying start last night. Congratulatory telegrams were received from Rotary clubs all over continent, wishing organization good luck.

Freight Rates On Wheat To Churchill Considered

OTTAWA, April 29.—(CP)—Trade Minister Howe told the Commons last night that the Canadian wheat board will consider measures to give farmers in the area of Churchill, Minn., the benefit of the cheaper freight rate on wheat shipped through the Hudson Bay port.

The minister made the statement in opposition to a bill sponsored by Percy Wright (CFC-Melfort) which would have made statutory the requirement that these farmers get the advantage of the cheaper freight rate.

He also urged elimination of the "diversion charge" of a cent and a half a bushel on wheat being shipped through Churchill. It was "pretty unfair," that the Port of Churchill should be so penalized.

Mr. Howe said though he was in various countries preating for them but at least two plus a centulate are in the books for this plans to set up Canadian missions.

WEAVER OPPOSES The bill, which would have amended the Canadian Wheat Board Act of 1935 to give Churchill, Man., producers the benefit of the 12-cent advantage in the shipping rate on wheat through Churchill, was also opposed by George Weaver (L-Churchill).

Mr. Weaver said he measured approved it would mean the 40,000 bushels of wheat produced in the Churchill area would be shipped through Churchill, despite the fact it could not be handled there. He believed the advantage of shipping goods on Canadian markets despite assurances by Gen. Douglas MacArthur such "chicanery" would not be revived. They had promised "the would serve would be to 'confuse the mind of the western farmer'."

Mr. Wright said he would withdraw the bill if the minister could suggest a more acceptable method of bringing about the same result. He said the bill was "pretty unfair," that the Port of Churchill should be so penalized.

Protestants View Television Film

Puppet Movie Is First In Series Of Stories Of Bible

NEW YORK—A puppet movie entitled "The Good Samaritan," first in a series of films especially produced for television by the Protestant Radio commission, was screened before an audience of church leaders, television executives and newsmen.

The Rev. Everett C. Parker, commission director, announced at the screening that the series would comprise 13 puppet films on Bible stories. He said the commission had been encouraged to produce the series because of the popularity of each TV narrative series as "Howdy Dood," "Lucky Pup," and "Kukla, Fran and Ollie."

Three other films, Mr. Parker said, are now in production—"The Prodigal Son," "The Lost Sheep" and "The Ten Talents." It is expected that the cycle of 13 films will be completed this fall. If successful, the series will be expanded to films, Mr. Parker said.

Although produced primarily for television presentation, the films also will be made available to church schools and to other community organizations.

China Civil War Costs Canada Much

OTTAWA, April 29.—(CP)—China's civil war has cost Canada at least $100,000,000.

External Affairs Minister Pearson indicated yesterday the government holds faint hope of collecting that amount from the Communists.

—Despite threats of a presidential veto, the house ways and means committee just about committed itself today to enact tax cuts of almost $100,000,000.

The committee left the door open for reversing itself by labeling its action "tentative" and subject to final approval later.

Members agreed, however, that when the payroll comes, the $907,000,000 in reductions approved by the committee in the last few days are likely to stand and perhaps to be increased somewhat.

Evangelist Sees 'Spread of Sin' As Commie Plot

MANCHESTER, N.H.—Evangelist Billy Graham said here that the "massive spread of sin throughout the nation is the result of a Communist plot to weaken us so that when they are ready we will not have the moral strength to withstand their attack."

Speaking before a crowd of nearly 10,000 people, Graham denounced Communism as a "fantasy, supernaturalism" designed to lead the world to "ruin."

The youthful evangelist said the American home was breaking up and pointed to the mounting divorce rate and the number of young people strayed for various reasons.

Basement Floods Come With Spring

Plumbing, Heating Check Urged Before Spring Cleaning Starts

April showers may bring May flowers but they also bring dangers of flooded basements and the urge to spring-cleaning.

Home-owners and home-dwellers this spring should give some thought to the subject of their plumbing and heating when making plans for spring-cleaning and jobs to be completed during April and May.

An inspection of the heating system when it is shut down this spring is a good tip to keep in mind according to the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating. It is a good idea to check the heating system before it is started.

HEATING SYSTEM CHECK

1. First have your heating system checked and cleaned by your plumber and heating contractor. This means cleaning all soot and dirt from heating surfaces.

2. Have your heating plant inspected for leaks in fire and fuel-carrying doors.

3. Be sure your chimney is clean and free from creosote. Clean and check the smokepipe leading from the boiler or furnace to the chimney, making sure that it has no developed leaks through the roof.

4. Be sure that damper doors, flues and chimneys and pullies work smoothly.

5. If you have a warm air heating system, be sure the filters are clean. Replace or clean dirty filters. Check insulation on warm air ducts.

6. It is a wise to get all of this work done in the spring when cleaning down the heating plant because it is a quick and easy way to save more trouble and expense than in the fall.

RESULTANT FLOODING

Weather forecasts this year indicate heavy rains and resultant flooding across the country. Plumbing inspection plans should be made accordingly.

Dependable and automatic protection against the advance and expense of water in the basement, for example, is available through two devices used by the C.I.P.H.

These are the sump pump and the back water valve. Both of these units are inexpensive and prevent the damage and inconvenience resulting from flooded basements.

Positive protection against the

TRIM STRIP MADE TRIM WITH EASE

After you paint your baseboards protect new paint from damage as you nail on the baseboard molding or quarter round.

A small sheet of metal will do the job.

Slip a sheet of newspaper under trim strip and you can paint it without getting paint on the floor, tear paper out when paint is dry.

Nail strip to floor, not baseboard, to prevent later separation between floor and the baseboard molding.

New Ventilator Helps Chase Grime, Grease

Over 400 pounds of greasy vapors are given off each year, even in the nicest homes, from cooking.

This greasy grime floats on air currents through your home depositing a greasy film on your worktops, walls and furniture.

Yet it can be eliminated—right at its source in the kitchen—with a newly marketed ventilator.

It is easy to install—just plug into a standard household outlet or, for all homes or apartments also available.

One type of back water valve has a manual control as an additional safeguard if the automatic check valve should fail to operate.

Correct installation, says C.I.P.H., should be made by a plumber or an experienced plumber who is familiar with water conditions in the neighbourhood.

Brooms Should Be Kept Clean

For more efficient cleaning with brooms and feather dusters, it is a good idea to protect them from accumulating dirt when not in use.

To do this, slip a large paper bag over the head of the broom or duster and fasten it with string or a rubber band slipped over the handle.

Hang the implement from a wall hook by means of a loop of twine tied through a hole drilled near the end of the handle.

Latest Dustpan Needs Only One Hand To Work

One hand is all that is needed to operate a newly patented wheel-mounted dustpan with a rotating brush.

No stooping is required with it. By means of a single handle, it is operated in an upright position.

The feature is a rotating brush at the forward edge of the dust pan. It gathers in the sweepings without the use of an ordinary broom.

Each of the small wheels on which the pan is mounted carries a belt that passes over pulleys on the ends of the brush axle.

When the device is pushed forward, the belts cause the brush to rotate in drive pickup material back into the pan.

The device is not a carpet sweeper as the term is generally used. However, it can be employed in carpet debris.

Barkeep's Bailiwick

A cocktail table does a quick change to become the most compact bartender's bailiwick we've seen. A little door swings open to reveal your stock of liquors and on the back it holds six highball and six shot glasses. It is designed in sleek modern lines with a satin oak finish and a glass top.

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

Figure to get an extra big belt out of watching Toronto Mariboros, especially that kid Lewicki. Still don't understand all the excitement just because an 18-year-old has shown he can play acceptably, and then some alongside 'seniors'.

Time was when the country was full of 'teen-agers who didn't care even a little bit at the idea of battling with or against older guys. Right here in Edmonton can remember when Don Stuart, Al Hall, Reje Hills, Red Beatty, Paul Runge, Joe Brown, Leroy Gidworthy, Roger Jenkins, Bob Crossland and many were doing just what Lewicki is doing... Boy, now this gang, if you could have got them together on one team, might have mopped up aggregations like the Stampede and Mariboros.

Who's dreaming now, Moher? Too cold, really, for golf and tennis, to say nothing of baseball and football. A lot of guys and gals are going to be pretty discouraged if the weatherman doesn't start to cut it. Still, they're having the same kind of grief in Georgia and other southern States. So why should we kick? At least our blood is thick.

Wonder what's the latest on flying saucers? Who was the guy who said the other day he thought people now flying saucers only when in their cups? That adds up, sort of.

Note where Yankees are off to a good start in the American League. They still handle the Red Sox like they own 51 per cent of the stock in the Boston club. Looks like Casey Stengel might pull it off again, even though World Series time is a long way from now. That reminds me: One of Ken Sans' better friends should warn him he could starve for wins this summer if he goes with too many kids in that Dodgers lineup... It's alright to be strong for local boys, but Dodgers won't go anywhere if they don't have experienced help in a half dozen spots, at least. There you go again, chump, trying to run someone else's business.

What a week this one was along the fight front... Now it's big Tom Casey who wants a permit to stage a card. You'd wonder why anyone would want to monkey with the game hereabouts, considering the headaches, first Gene Mason, and now Jack Berry, have had. A fellow can make money boxing, but then the Boy Promoter says that first.

Understand Cleary is quite a buddy of first baseman Ferris Fain of the Philadelphia Athletics. Still, that wouldn't cut any ice with the Boxing and Wrestling Commission, Nat.

So Harry Ornest is back in town. Guess he got a bad deal from the American Hockey league when he was decided to cut the refereeing staff from 10 to a half dozen after the season had started. Seniority counted for more than ability and Ornest was one of the goats. He went back to the United States loop. Nearly everyone you run into says he's a fine official.

Could it be that another Negro pitching ace is headed for the majors? Roy Welmaker won his first four starts for San Diego. What's more he reads like a gent with a future, even if he is 28. You could put together a pretty good club made up of colored ballplayers now on the Big Apple, or headed that way... Campanella, Newcombe, Jackie Robinson, Henry Thompson, Larry Doby, Luke Easter, Jethro. The list grows and will continue to do so.

What a club Calgary Stampede are putting together for the Grey cup chase. If they really have Royal Copeland bagged, as reports have it, they'll be shanty rich in the end positions, with 'Woody' Strode and 'Sugarfoot' Anderson to go along with Copeland... Never did see anyone else as loose as that Anderson.

Next Saturday's Kentucky derby shaping up as the most wide open in a long time... Right now it looks like anyone of a half dozen colts could win it. Thing to do is get down on the right one and cop a nice bet. After all, beef's not getting any cheaper.

Silver Hawk Cyclists Organize

The Silver Hawk Cycle club will peddle into the 1950 season on May 21 with a 15-mile race. That was one of the important items of business discussed at the club's organizational meeting last night.

Other races to be held during the season will be 25, 50 and 100 mile affairs, held on Sun. Nisku, Edmonton, Haultain and Red Deer respectively. In the city, all these races are planned as charity events.

Silver Hawks will be represented at the 18-mile Kemano-to-Winnipeg bike this summer. Those competing after the season had started. Seniority counted for more than ability and Ornest was one of the goats. He went back to the United States loop. Nearly everyone you run into says he's a fine official.

The club plans to revive the grueling 50-mile dash from Alberta Beach to Edmonton this summer.

Avenue Aces of the Girls Baseball league tomorrow spring training at Edson, Alberta, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SIGNING UP with new manager is Al Marotti, left, classy lightweight boxer from Youngstown, Ohio. Marotti's new chief is Tom Cleary, former football tackle with Washington Redskins and candidate for Edmonton Ekamoon this fall. Cleary was refused the right to promote fight here at a meeting of the Edmonton Boxing and Wrestling Commission last night, but expects to secure a permit for a late May production.

Dr. Hardy's Statements All 'Greek' to Newsman

Dr. W. G. Hardy, life member of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, and president of the International Ice Hockey Federation, returned from the east yesterday.

And about the first thing he did was clear up statements attributed to him while lecturing to the Ontario Educational Association at a Toronto convention recently.

A Vancouver correspondent told Dr. Hardy to the effect that "professionalism degraded sport generally." But Dr. Hardy says it was all a mistake. He wasn't even talking about present day sport, he was holding forth on athletics during the sixth, fifth and fourth centuries, B.C.

According to Dr. Hardy's non-entertaining writer must have happened along about this time and without bothering to inquire, had assumed that he was discussing on trends in the current sports world.

Dr. Hardy saw only one game while in the east, a junior playoff between Guelph Biltmore and Montreal Canadiens. But that one look was enough to convince him that the time has come for a concerted drive to eliminate rough-house tactics from the game.

"The game was very rough," he said. "Some of the things the players were permitted to do were downright stupid."

It can be taken for granted that Dr. Hardy, a player in his younger days, will use his influence, both in the CCHA and the I.H.F., to spur a movement dedicated to cleaning up hockey.

In this connection, he has scheduled a meeting of the I.H.F. for Paris at summer. Undoubtedly question of rules and regulations, and their enforcement, will come in for a good airing then.

"I had pointed out that the sixth century was the age when an athlete was raised pretty much according to his strength."

"And I went on to say that the fifth was the century of the all-round athlete in Greece, while there was definite evidence that professionalism was strong in the fourth century and that it had tended to degrade athletics."

It seems that in the fourth century even Greece had its angles, gent's who weren't above trying to fix the old contest, or tamper with a birth certificate, if need be.

According to Dr. Hardy's non-entertaining writer must have happened along about this time and without bothering to inquire, had assumed that he was discussing on trends in the current sports world.

EBWC Drops Cleary's Bid

For days Edmonton's boxing beat has been seething with newsworthy left hooks and right crosses. And yesterday it erupted like the volcanic Mt. Vesuvius, pouring forth a whole ring full of items.

First off, the Edmonton Boxing and Wrestling Commission met in a closed meeting in the cuss, among other things, the recent incident involving commission chairman Dr. Lee Doods and Bulletin sports writer Dick Beedoes.

This affair was patched up amicably as reported on page one. The EBWC was to have met with major Sidney Harston on the matter last night, but his workshop wasn't present. However, he will reappear a report of it at an early council meeting.

PALMER VS. LEWIS
Members of the commission present last evening—Dr. Doods, secretary Alex Wynnyshuk, A. G. Shute, Alderman Ed Clarke and Alderman Ken Lawton—denied issuing a permit to promote prize fights to Tom Cleary.

They felt that Edmonton couldn't stand two boxing promoters at this time, and that Jack Berry was doing his level best to prevent good bouts. However, Cleary's fight at anytime to request a permit, and Dr. Doods indicated that when a few private matters are cleared up the American football player might be granted one.

Heavy proposals to stage his use on May 12, while Cleary had suggested May 12 for his first show.

Headlining the heavy presentation will be Phil Palmer of Vancouver and Les Lewis from Minneapolis. Cleary had been counting on Al Marotti and Bobby Burgess from San Francisco to headline the May 12 bill.

PALMER VS. BILLAN
But while Cleary has denied the permit, he at least got his foot in the boxing door locally by signing Marotti to a one-year contract.

As Marotti's manager, Cleary proposes to bring in such highly regarded lightweights as Les Franklin and Jesse Flores as opponents for him. Meanwhile, Les Farnham announced yesterday that Palmer will likely join with Irish Jimmy Holden Nolan.

CIVIL SERVICE OFFICIALLY OPENS MAY 7

Civil Service Tenets Club will hold their official opening on Sunday May 7. It was announced last night.

Plans have been made to hold a round-robin tournament and a small social for the occasion.

A few of the more prominent names who are expected to enter the official opening are George Docherty, Johnny Stoll, Basil McAvoy, Nancy Gollings and Marge Forbes.

All Provinces Alter Clocks But Alberta

By The Canadian Press

It's called Daylight Saving Time

but actually, Canadians will be losing an hour's time they switch their clocks tonight.

Fast time, a boon to such people as as sandlot ballplayers but a pain in the neck to most farmers, is scheduled to come into effect in parts of nine provinces in the early hours of Sunday.

Alberta is the only province which specifically has daylight saving time in its constitution, but it is to tip its local option.

Most people will set their clocks back at bedtime, unless they are up when the official change is made. In Toronto daylight time comes into effect at 2 a.m. while

Montreal, Windsor and Winnipeg are among a few cities setting the deadline at 1 a.m.

HOW TO DO IT

Undoubtedly some people will lose the knack of turning the clock the wrong way. So, for those disasters, here's what you do:

Alaska State Issue Bill Closes Today

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(UPI)

Gov. Ernest Gruening of Alaska closes the case for the Alaska Statehood bill today before the Senate Interior committee amends the bill.

Supporters of the house-passed bill view some changes as "too much the better" but they have persistently cautioned the committee against "killing the bill with kindness."

The industry—a traditional opponent of statehood—represented by W. C. Arnold, Jr., says the industry does not oppose the "principle" of statehood, but it is opposed to the provisions of the pending bill.

It particularly attacks provisions to give the new state the right to sue the federal government to force Indian land claims, and to force the federal government to sue the state to force the federal government to sue the state.

Supporters of the bill would like to see the bill passed as soon as possible, but they are not sure if the bill will be passed.

Tories Start Plan To Cut Expenses

OTTAWA, April 20. — (CP) — The Progressive Conservative party has placed before the Commons a proposal for establishment of a Royal Commission to show the government how to cut costs.

The suggestion, stirring a vigorous debate, came from George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, as he capped a 90-minute speech yesterday by moving that a commission be set up with power to make recommendations to:

1. Reduce public expenditure to the lowest point consistent with efficiency.
2. Eliminate duplication of overlapping services.
3. Improve the general efficiency of government and secure the civil service of full recognition of its responsibilities.
4. Consolidate all public services and departmental activities of a similar nature.

The motion will come to a vote next week.

MANY SPEAKERS

The debate drew comment from Prime Minister St. Laurent, Finance Minister, Abbott, Solicitor General, Credit, leader, John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre), J. N. Macdonald (PC—Toronto Greenwood), Jean Francois Poulin (L—Tenniscousta), René Adamson (PC—York West), L. F. Picard (L—Bellevue), R. H. Thayer (CCF—Moore Jaw) and Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver East).

In the early stages, Mr. St. Laurent said the government will investigate the fiscal situation in Manitoba to decide whether federal aid will be given.

Search Still On For U.S. Aircraft

Object Of Large Air Hunt, U.S. C-54 Still Unighted

By Stanley Burke
Bulletin Staff Writer

As northern snow recedes, hopes are rising that trace may be found of the U.S. airliner which disappeared last January in the Yukon with 42 persons aboard.

Air force officials here say planes in the area in which the four-engine C-54 is believed to have crashed will keep close lookout for signs of wreckage.

Meanwhile, RCAF planes based at Whitehorse are still continuing to investigate all leads coming in from trappers and other Yukon residents.

Search officers point out, however, that no trace of the plane may ever be found.

Approximately 34 aircraft are missing without trace in western Canada at the present time, they say.

In several instances, planes which crashed in relatively populated areas were not found for months, or even years after the crash. In unimproved areas, it is often impossible to sight wreckage.

Recently a big Stranraer flying boat which crashed in 1947 was found within 15 miles of Vancouver.

LIKELY BURIED

There is every possibility, officials say, the big American army transport is buried in the snows of the towering St. Elias mountains, the highest and most jagged range in Canada.

It is hoped the plane has been long since abandoned, that any of the persons aboard could have survived but they will continue indefinitely to follow all likely leads.

The plane disappeared last January while on a flight from Alaska

Lowdown On Low Brow

I must be a low brow because:
I like murder mysteries better than I like Shakespeare. I like "When It's Springtime in the Rockies" better than Beethoven's Fifth Symphony.
I would sooner steal a man from the ice box than feast at a five-course banquet. I'd rather watch Betty Grable dance than the girl in the Red Shoes ballet.

Help Wanted

Here's an emergency call to Hawaiian, Filipino and Alaskan girls living in Edmonton.
Harold Peyer and Ray Kern of Northwest Airlines, want native girls from every country served by Northwest Airlines planes to participate in the ceremony at the city airport tomorrow. Northwest planes will start picking up and discharging passengers in Edmonton on their Orient flights.

They asked me if I could help, so hence this little item. Any girl native of Hawaii or the Philippines is asked to telephone Mr. Peyer or Mr. Kern at 41513. Same goes for the Alaskan girl. If you happen to know of any families from Hawaii or the Philippines you will please give that number a jingle.

There's not much time left either as the airport ceremony is at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Dark if all. I should have brought one of those Hula maidens back from Honolulu last summer.

I'm sure sorry that Elegant Elsie doesn't come from Honolulu because I think she'd be a wow in a grass skirt.

Hint for City

My friend Jack White is back in town after driving from eastern Canada by way of Michigan, Illinois, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Wyoming and Montana.

Jack thinks Edmonton and the Philippines are in the same situation by following the example of Billings, Montana.

In Billings, avenues are washed one night and streets the next. Parking is prohibited on streets or avenues on nights when cleaning jobs are scheduled. That is if you live on an avenue you have to park your car on the nearest street if it's avenues night for a bath.

They keep their streets twice as clean as Edmonton and don't have any trouble with parked cars.

I'm still waiting a reply to my generous, (I thought), offer to Mayor Simpson.

I offered to sweep and clean one block on Jasper Avenue if His Worship, commissioners and aldermen each did the same.

Guess this must have been one proposition the aldermen were unanimously "agin" eh?

All right then, we'll narrow it down to a contest between the mayor and me. We'll each sweep one block and the guy who finishes first is allowed to keep his city-owned block as a prize.

Edmonton Boxing and Wrestling Commission rules to prevail.

That means no reporters barred who are willing to help.

Pat Ashby is back from sunny California with a nice coat of tan. He put on his other coat as soon as he hit Idaho—his winter coat. Patrick ran into a big snowstorm down Idaho way.

Northwest Airlines may be a world-grinding transportation system but it will have nothing but Edmontonians working for it or the other way around.

Here's the list of employees that will start working tomorrow when regular passenger stops will be inaugurated.

Douglas W. McLeod, station manager; Gordon S. Long, transportation agent; George E. Flewelling, ticketing and reservations; Arthur A. Wolda, transportation agent and Murray F. Koch, transportation.

Then of course there's Col. W. F. Hancock, who continues to function as special representative to the vice-president of the Orient Division for Northwest.

A good night to all and especially to people who are cultured.

Eskimo-Stamper Train Will Run 50 MPH Average

An engine which often has pulled trains at 110 miles per hour has been assigned to draw passengers between Edmonton and Calgary.

"It won't travel that fast on its new run. The Canadian Pacific Railway isn't convinced people in Edmonton are in that big a hurry to reach Calgary."

But stations on route are the only places it will stop. The train has nine stations stops between the two oil cities. To average 50 miles an hour over the route it will need to go more than half again as fast between most stations.

TWO-WAY SCHEDULE
The streamlined, big type, C-1000 engine will haul the train between Alberta's two major cities in four and one half hours. It will leave Calgary daily at 8:30 a.m. and arrive in Edmonton at 1:00 p.m. and leave the provincial capital at 3:00 p.m. and arrive in Calgary at 7:30 p.m.

Northbound to Edmonton the train will be known as the Eskimo, Southbound to Calgary it's called the Stamper.

The CP is proud of the new coaches being used on the run and Edmonton is to inspect yesterday in both Edmonton and Calgary. They are the most expensive day coaches yet made for Canadian use. Each one cost $10,000, nearly twice the cost formerly considered high for day coaches. There'll be three coaches, a combined baggage and smoker, and a combined dining and buffet car.

Instead of three weeks in tandem at each corner of the coaches—12 altogether—the new coaches have two in tandem, a total of eight for each coach. In the middle of each set of two wheels are new-style shock absorbers and anti-rattle springs so that at 50 miles an hour the passenger is unaware the train is going even.

A portrait of coming events is seen in the new coaches. Each of the 48 "sleeping" chairs has its own number. The vehicle is its own number.

The train probably will come when a person buying a ticket is ready for distribution.

New Booklet Reveals All About Edmonton

A flashy new publicity booklet about Edmonton is now ready for distribution.

Prepared by an Edmonton advertising agency in collaboration with Industrial Commissioner Graham W. Carle, the 48-page publication gives a comprehensive picture of the city with particular emphasis on industrial and business possibilities.

Across the bottom of the page, obvious to the fact that the city is growing is a "City of Opportunity."

Edmonton is introduced with an attractive layout of pictures about the city's varied enterprises, and an accompanying word outline of its history.

Markets are analyzed, service, health and educational facilities enumerated and illustrated.

Facilities for air transport, rail service, and communications are outlined.

Army Announces New Training Plan

Additional Week's Camp Stated At Wainwright

Reserve force commanders of army units in Western Command, who met earlier this month at Vancouver and Calgary, have approved a training plan to concentrate their units at Wainwright military camp for an additional week following regular summer camps this year.

This was announced today by Headquarters, Western Army Command.

The new plan involves reorganization of most types of reserve units. Styled along the lines of last year's concentration of the active force brigade at Wainwright, all reserve units in the two provinces will work with other arms in realistic field exercises. Headquarters formerly carried out basic and corps training during their annual summer camps.

When units arrive at Wainwright July 23, a skeleton group of all arms will be formed. The following day they will move to a concentration area about five miles from camp and for the next four weeks carry out a series of tactical problems in the 100,000-acre training area.

ALMOST ALL UNITS
During this first year of concentrated field training the only corps units to be trained at the big camp will be that of anti-aircraft, heavy and light anti-aircraft, armoured, and the one night training available at Wainwright 813 last year. For women it was up to 383 from 300.

Major General J. H. McCreery, who has earned station on English-male ball, screen and radio, will appear the one night only.

Supporting him will be his countryman Jimmy Hickey, who will handle the instrumental end of the training with Canadian violinist Marguerite Laroche.

The first Yale-Harvard football contest was held at Lake Winnipeg, N.B., in 1902.

GOOD FAIRY QUEEN TINKERBELL LOVED BY ALL AT NEVERLAND

HEROIC TINKERBELL is the good fairy queen who sacrificed the light of her life for Peter Pan. In the Edmonton staging of the beloved fantasy, the pretty Tink, played by Leslie Stephenson, waves her magic wand of kindness and cheer over all Neverland. Tiny rabbits, Karen Ann Boddy, left, Douglas Fellingner, Carol Ann Hayes, greet Tink with love and admiration of her beauty. Beautifully costumed staging of "Peter Pan" will take place at Sales Pavilion May 5.

"Peter Pan" To Be Staged

J. M. Barrie's beloved Peter Pan will beckon to young and old when YWCA health education department presents a fairyland fantasy at the Sales Pavilion May 5.

"Peter Pan" will be staged with a cast of more than 350 children and 1,000 costumes.

Mrs. Arthur Potter, convener of department activities, and Miss Eve Thomson, director of health education, are producer-directors of the delightful pageant.

Costumes have been designed by Mrs. Potter and Mrs. J. M. Johnstone. Mothers of the kiddies taking part have fashioned the frothy fairy skirts, leaf green flower suits, the pixy outfits for the YWCA sponsored presentation.

Mrs. Potter, a busy, busy woman these pre-show days, is now in the middle of a problem about trees. She's not sure how to make a plump little girl look exactly like a tree.

Miss Nona Rogers, assistant to Miss Thomson, is helping with direction of the show. Children have been taught special fairy dances, edin tumbling, graceful pantomime for this visit to Neverland.

Arthur Potter will be master of ceremonies for the evening performance. William Gribble is in charge of lighting and Mrs. Russell Love is backstage manager.

Committee members assisting with the show are Mrs. N. Bradley, Mrs. K. Conibear, Mrs. H. Gairlow, Mrs. William Gribble, Mrs. J. M. Johnstone, Mrs. G. M. Peacock, Mrs. N. Richardson.

SPRITES, WATER LILIES 'N SQUIRREL

PETER PAN ENTICES WENDY TO NEVERLAND

LOVEABLE, LAUGHING Wendy and fairyland hero Peter Pan, step from the pages of J. M. Barrie's beloved fantasy to perform for Edmonton audiences May 5. Sunny-strolling Marguerite Colville will be Wendy and Margaret Malone will carry out the joshy presentation of Peter Pan.

BIG, BAD, BOLD PIRATES TOO

PIRATE HOOK is a constant threat to peace and harmony in Neverland. He is the villain of the piece. Marjorie Hector plays this role in the Peter Pan production May 5.

LITTLE LOST BOY GUARDED WELL IN NEVERLAND

CITIZENS of Neverland are close, friendly, spry, and they welcome visits from Little Lost Boys to their dream-world kingdom. Eli Petty Harrington watches over Terry Zeuss with fairy Goner Jean Kule. Peter Pan has commissioned Neverland dwellers to watch over the children who come to life or to visit. J. M. Barrie's picture of the whims and fancies of youngsters is a delightful fantasy.

ALL THINGS BEAUTIFUL ARE YOUNG

CHILDISH FANCY to be a cloud or a star up in the sky is realized by Joan Wrenshall, left, and Barbara Conibear, in the YWCA-sponsored fairy tale pageant. Show will be presented at Sales Pavilion.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Butter Buying Drops Until Monday Prices

By Bea Thrifty

Butter buying for the week-end is not following its usual heavy-treaded pattern. And of course the reason is the Monday price lowering from 62c per pound to 57c for the same volume.

Local grocers are shaking their heads about the whole matter. But consumers are welcoming the 5c shift in price.

Morris

Policy of "Quality First"

Has Started A New Era In Reasonably Priced Motoring

Morris refused to compromise on quality when Post-War supply difficulties made it seem expedient to do so. This policy has done an outstanding service.

The Canadian motorist benefits, too, in terms of new high levels in motoring value. How is it that MORRIS can concentrate so much quality in a reasonably-priced car?

Because MORRIS is a SUPPLIED PRODUCT... with all the N.I.F.F.E.L.D. production facilities and specialized experience to draw on. This combination enables MORRIS to build more honest progress into its reasonably-priced car.
